Have your say on the RDR

Amanda Bowe, FSA's Head of Retail Distribution Review will be providing a briefing on the main points for firms from our retail distribution review discussion paper DP07/1. The paper contains potentially radical changes for small firms and we want to listen carefully and have a real debate with firms that have a stake in the changes proposed.

The aim is to give you a good understanding of the proposals in our discussion paper and let you have your say.

Following Amanda's presentation, the Chairman will invite questions from the floor.

Who should attend?

Financial advisers, investment managers, banking and financial services representatives and friendly societies.
